SPRING 2014

$83,000 Awarded to 56 students this year by Lake Worth Dollars For Scholars

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE:

Jenni Chastain, President

I have recently taken over the presidency of the Lake Worth High School Alumni Foundation... a well-oiled machine. You can have every confidence that any money you contribute for memberships, golf tournaments, hat shows, silent auction items, etc., is going toward our mission. Our mission is to provide scholarships to jump-start Lake Worth High School graduates toward a college education.

The alumni foundation was created to fund the Lake Worth Dollars for Scholars which has given over $750,000 in scholarships since it began in 1999. This is made possible by YOUR interest and participation in alumni sponsored activities, but mostly by countless volunteer hours contributed by foundation and committee members. Now, I find myself at the helm of this wave and will do my best to keep the organization moving forward.

The alumni foundation has received two prestigious awards within the last few months. In December we, as a group, were presented with The Outstanding Volunteer of the Year Award by the Association of Community School Principals at their annual luncheon. Then, in March, Lake Worth High School Alumni Foundation was recognized by the School Board of Palm Beach County for their excellence in providing for scholarships and supporting the students of Lake Worth over the last 15 years.

Whenever we have the opportunity to be with the students, we are reminded again that they are nicely- behaved, earnest young men and women who are deserving of the time and effort we extend on their behalf. Besides working hard to achieve an "A" rating for their school, there have been many other accomplishments. The Lake Worth High School debate team for the third time won the Palm Beach County "Ethics Bowl" debate contest in February. Then, in March, the Women's Chorus received two excellent ratings and a superior rating at the District Music Assessment held at Palm Beach Gardens High School. At the same event, the Mixed Chorus received all superior ratings and are headed for state competition in April. (Does this bring back memories of 1966 Kathie Kunkel, Gail Cerniglia and Mary Pylman??? Hat's off to Mrs. McClung!) One more award to mention went to the Lake Worth High School Culinary team which placed as one of the top five ProStart High School programs out of 54 high schools from Florida at the 14th Annual ProStart Culinary Team Competitions in March. (A few years ago, several of us enjoyed a mystery dinner night featuring a LWHS drama department mystery accompanied by dinner prepared and served by the LWHS culinary department. It was excellent!)

We continue to have many reasons to be proud to be Lake Worth Trojans!

Principal's Message

Welcome!

Testing season is here. Not just the students who test rather the community, parents, educators, and stakeholders – we all are involved as the results affect each of us. 2013 FCAT score rated us 1 point from an 'A'. After we appealed we were granted the coveted 'A' rating! Along with discipline being down 46% from 2012, we have achieved academically as well.

Lake Worth CHS is an 'A' School!

Other Accomplishments in 2014:

For the 3rd Year in the row LWCHS won the 2014 Ethics Bowl! I was named the 2014 CTE HS Principal of the Year thanks to the Choice programs we have at LWCHS, and Five Star Award.

The Wireless Pilot Program infused for the PBCSD last year is in full swing this FCAT season.

Similar to last year, FCAT is being deployed after the Spring Break for high schools.

Our expectations remain high

for this year also. The State has increased the chances of receiving an 'A' by 70 points and a 'B' by 50 points. Although the standards are rigid, we are determined to 'not to go gentle into that good night', rather stay the course with stringent academics.

Again, we will need parental involvement during and after the school day. One way is to join our School Advisory Council (SAC). We welcome you to be a part of this growth because we realize that partnership is absolutely necessary for our success. As always...READ, READ, READ to your child or have them read to you. Do not underestimate the power of reading.

I look forward to continue working with the community and celebrating every step we take as we sustain our successes!

Sincerely,
George L. Lockhart, Ed.D.

Former Trojan Still Active in State Politics

For many “senior” Trojans, the name McKnight brings back memories of Lake Worth’s popular children’s clothing store on Lake Avenue, Kid-die Fair. Joel and Gwen McKnight founded and owned the store during the 50’s and had two sons that went on to graduate from Lake Worth High School, James (58) and Bob (62). The boys, together lettered in varsity high school football, basketball and track.

After graduation, Bob went to college at Florida Southern College, where he was elected president of his sophomore, junior and senior classes. He was an ROTC Distinguished Military Graduate and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army. He served in Korea during the 1969 «Pueblo Incident,» for which he was awarded the U. S. Army Commendation Medal. After obtaining his master’s degree, Bob was recruited by the IBM Corporation in Miami. He ran for and won a seat in the Florida House of Representatives in 1974. Four years later, he beat two state senators to win the District 38 seat in the Florida Senate, covering Dade and Monro counties. Although his name was widely circulated as a potential candidate for Governor in 1986, Bob surprised the pundits in Tallahassee by retiring from public service to, as he said, «...to spend more time with my wife, Susan, and our children, Michelle and Bobby.»

Today, Senator McKnight is retired from business, living in Tallahassee with his wife, where they welcome visits from their children and six grandchildren. Bob has written two books on Florida politics--one, a memoir (The Golden Years... The Florida Legislature) and one (co-written), a thriller novel (Accidental Ambition). For information on the two books, search Amazon.com, and type in author: Robert W. McKnight or ISBN:13: 978-1-889574-28-8; ISBN:13: 978-0-7414-8185-6; and ISBN:13: 978-0-7414-6036-3.

As a result of his books, Bob is now a regular political commentator for the Gannett newspaper chain and the Tallahassee Democrat. He also has provided political commentary for ABC, CBS, and FOX television news, as well as the statewide, weekly public affairs television program, Facing Florida. He can be reached at bob@flpoliticalcommentary.com.

Jack Labay, Class of 1969

By Helen Gilmore

What is it about Lake Worth High School that creates bonds of lifelong friendships? Jack Labay, class of 1969, is still close friends with Bo Nye and Mike Smollen who graduated with him. Labay helped with the recent Lake Worth High School Alumni Foundation’s Golf Tournament which netted more than $10,000 for high school scholarships. Jack and the Golf Committee were instrumental in selling about $5,000 worth of tee signs for the event.

In high school Jack was Junior Class President and traveled to Boy’s State in Tallahassee. According to Jack, “I didn’t have a clue of what government was about.” He spent his youth in Lake Worth playing baseball and football. In fact, Harold Gilmore, LWHHS Alumni Foundation Vice-President, was his Pony League baseball coach. Coach Jack Marcum was his favorite high school teacher and baseball coach, along with his Science teacher, Coach Dave MacGregor, Coach Buddy Goodell, his psychology teacher, Bill Humphrey, his football coach and Coach Gary Weed. Coach Weed actually helped him get his football scholarship to Arkansas Southern State College. He returned to graduate from Palm Beach Junior College with a general education degree. Jack manages the bar at the Atlantis Grille. For 10 years he owned and operated Jack’s Town Tavern. When asked what his future goals might be, Labay offered, “I wouldn’t mind opening a bar of my own again someday.” As to what’s on his bucket list, he averred, “I don’t have a bucket list. I don’t plan on leaving anytime soon.” He shared that in ’71 he backpacked through Europe for six weeks on his own. He does have several hobbies now, one of which is gardening. He has about 70 orchids growing at his home. He admits to being an avid Miami Hurricane’s fan, along with cheering on the Dolphins and the Boston Red Sox.

He suffered quite a loss recently upon the passing of his girlfriend of 18 years, Stacy Dieffenbach, who had pancreatic cancer. Jack’s Lake Worth High School friendships continue on when he, Mike Smollen and Terry Caldwell (Class of ’65) get together for a game of golf every Tuesday. Some past, funny memories of Lake Worth High are certain to surface from time to time and they have a good laugh together.

Meet Harold Gilmore

Lake Worth High School Alumni Foundation Vice- President

Alumni Foundation vice-president Harold Gilmore is thankful that Lake Worth High School has provided opportunities to learn good practices and leadership skills for many over the years. In fact, his entire family, including his wife, Helen, his children, Steve, Janet and Marcella and his sister, Maxine, went to LWHHS. For numerous years, Gilmore was in business with his family and their partners at Modern Venetian Blind Corporation, West Palm Beach, and Lance Awnings Inc., Lake Worth, manufacturers of hurricane awnings. Along the way he graduated from Palm Beach Junior College.

After coaching baseball to countless youngsters at the City of Lake Worth Youth Baseball fields, through Pony League and Colt League, Gilmore started a semi-pro baseball team - the Lake Worth Reds. They played with the South Florida Semi-Pro League throughout the state. In addition, he was a scoutmaster of several troops and took all of the kids camping. Various organizations have benefitted from his leadership abilities. Gilmore was past-president of the Lake Worth Civitans, a community service club, held leadership duties at Calvary United Methodist Church, was past-president of the Palm Beach Chapter of the Florida Aero Club and most recently, as an avid pilot, was Chairman of the Palm Beach County Commission’s Aviation Advisory Board, assisting them with their four, county-owned airports. He is an Air Force veteran of the Korean War.

Gilmore is proud of the three quarters of a million dollars that the Foundation and Dollars for Scholars members have raised and presented in scholarships to deserving youths at Lake Worth High School. His future goals are to grow the Lake Worth High School Alumni Foundation and to continue the good work by involving younger and younger alums into leadership roles in the organization.

FRED THOMAS MEMORIAL REGATTA

The Palm Beach Sailing Club had a large turnout for the Fred Thomas Memorial Regatta, held in November, which culminated in an awards ceremony and dinner at the Club. The Palm Beach Sailing Club re-instituted the regatta after a number of years of non-racing, and chose to honor the former Lake Worth resident and master sailor by holding the regatta, the Club's first race in many years. Fred (Class of 1946) who passed away in March 1997, and wife, Virginia (Class of 1945) spent many years involved in sailing and racing, and were an integral part of the Palm Beach Sailing Club. In 1998, the Sailing Club dedicated their boat house in memory of Fred, and family and friends donated monetarily in his honor to upgrade the boat house and trophy cases.

The trophy presented at the recent regatta was originally won by Fred and the crew of his boat, "Jin & Thomas", in a prestigious SORC (Southern Ocean Racing Conference) race in Fort Lauderdale in the 1990s, and will remain on display at the Sailing Club.

Fred built his first boat as a young teen and his mother, Grace, made sails out of sheets. Fred and Virginia continued to sail through the years, with Fred and his crew winning numerous races around the South Florida and Bahamas area. Their boat, "Jin & Thomas," is still being raced locally by Lou Daniello and is now named "LouNautics." Shown in the photo is former "Jin & Thomas" crew member, Richard Katz, and Virginia Thomas at the Memorial Regatta. Richard is currently a crew member of "LouNautics."

Glen "Dutch" Grose, Class of 1948

Glen "Dutch" Grose graduated from Lake Worth High School class of 1948. He served in the Korean Conflict in 1951-52. He was injured and sent to the Swedish Red Cross Hospital in Pusan, Korea. Even though he was awarded the Purple Heart, the hospital was not able to give out this medal. His brother-in-law and sister-in-law recently began the process to get his medal. After 62 years, on January 21, 2014, Congressman

Jeff Denham presented Dutch with his Purple Heart, Presidential Unit Citation, National Defense Service Medal, Korean Service Medal and Two Bronze Stars, Combat Infantryman Badge 1st Award and the United Nations Service Medal. Along with family members, Congressman Denham's Advisory Committee which consisted of every branch of the military, was in attendance to honor him.

Dutch graduated with a Masters Degree from the College of the Pacific and taught high school for 30 years He also was a coach for various sports.

Dutch and his wife Carol are retired and live in Northern California. They have two daughters, four grandchildren and one great grandson.

Ralph Dupee. Class of 1953

After high school I went to Oberlin College and majored in Business Administration. Jan Jenniches was my roommate our freshman year. I was active in athletics. I played football for two years and then switched to soccer as a goalie. In the spring I played lacrosse. I met Joyce at Oberlin and we got engaged when I graduated. She was a year behind me - in class with Eddie Weldon and Dick Hilt. I went into the Army for two years and we got married when she graduated and joined me at Fort Bragg. We both then went to Springfield College for our Master's - Joyce's in Early Childhood and mine in Physical Education.

I joined the faculty of Polytechnic Preparatory Country Day School, an independent school in Brooklyn, NY, better known as Poly Prep. I taught math in the Middle School and coached soccer, wrestling and lacrosse. I was there for 37 years and had a variety of jobs including head of the middle school and business manager. Joyce worked in various administrative positions at several independent schools in Manhattan. We retired in 1998 and moved to Katonah, NY, a small town about one hour north of the city.

We have two children. Our daughter, Kim, lives near us and has 3 children and our son, Ken, lives in Oakland and works in San Francisco and has three children.

We are involved in numerous volunteer and part-time activities; we enjoy travelling; and we go to Manhattan regularly for the Philharmonic, the theater, ballet and museums.

Class of '53 Number ONE in Attendance
LWHS Alumni November Breakfast/Meeting

by Kathy Snyder Graves

Last May at the semi-annual LWHS Alumni breakfast/meeting, then president Phil Calcagno issued a challenge. The class with the most attendees at the upcoming November meeting would be recognized and receive an individual gift.

The class of 1953 accepted that challenge and encouraged all our reunion classmates to stay over from our 60th reunion weekend events and attend the 7:30 a.m. Tuesday, November 12 alumni breakfast/meeting. Although we had 18 committed classmates (plus their guests) only 12 actually ended up making it as things happened. With the approximately 200 in attendance at the breakfast, we still won as the class with most actual classmates attending. Each was recognized and presented with a LWHS hard-back history book written by Bill McGoun and printed in 2007. (still on sale for anyone wishing to purchase).

A LWHS Teacher Who Changed My Life: Tribute to Ward Heberling by Sharon Sjoquist Isern '59

He was not a coach or one of those teachers mentioned in the newspapers as teacher-of-the-year and presented with awards. He was the school librarian and sponsor of the Vagabonds and Thespians, drama groups at LWHS. Ward Heberling was a small man, hardly taller than his students. He had a withered arm which made him stand out at a time "handicapped" persons were hidden. To my knowledge, he never married and had no children of his own; though, in those days, none of us questioned a teacher's personal life. He had been a friend of my parents at Calvary Methodist Church when they were stationed in Palm Beach County during early WWII. (My father, a young man studying the ministry, went on to serve in the Pacific. He returned an alcoholic who struggled to support his family for most of the rest of his life. (My father did, after I entered college, conquer his addiction and was sober the last 20 years of his life.) My father did the best he could for his family, but his "best" did not include funding for college.

Mr. Heberling opened the door to college for me and I have him to thank for several post-graduate degrees today. He made it possible for me became an assistant principal at Lake Worth High School, my alma mater, and serve in other District schools as well.

As my high school graduation approached I realized my education was at an end and there were so many more classes I wanted to take. I wanted more from E. R. Goodell, Helen Engleman, Coach Gunderson, Mrs Otto and Mr. A.F. Smith, all favorite teachers. I had so much more to learn. I even asked the principal D. D. McCaull if I could do one more year in high school as a post-grad. Of course, state funding did not offer that option.

Mr. Heberling came to the rescue. A $200 drama scholarship became available sponsored by the Lake Worth Community Theater and named the "Burt Reynolds Drama Scholarship." I was certainly not the strongest member of our rather outstanding drama program, but I got the scholarship. Certainly Elizabeth McConnell, Scotty Amison, Jim Derryberry, and Ernie Van Duser (who was Dino in one of our best productions) deserved the scholarship more. To this day I fear that Mr. Heberling may have rigged the recommendation, but the scholarship was presented to me by Burt Reynolds, a soon-to-be famous local boy.

I was thrilled but worried that that $200 would cover only one year at community college...I was afraid to commit to a 4 year plan. Mr. Ward Heberling calmed my anxiety and told me to just think of one year at a time, and other scholarships would come... and they did. A Classroom Teachers' Scholarship paid my second year. I still think Mr. Heberling had something to do with that as well. I got a scholarship from the State of Florida to finish my undergraduate degree from University of Florida, then a working scholarship for a M. Ed. and later a grant from PBCSD to earn an EdS from FAU.

When I think of what my life would have been without a mentor like Mr. Ward Heberling...I am so fortunate to have known this man. I hope I have lived up to his faith in me.

LWHS Class of 1950 Holds Mini-Reunion

by HELEN VOGT GREENE

The graduating class of Lake Worth High, 1950, held a mini-reunion in preparation to their 65th next year. This is one of the few classes determined to hold old friendships together. Some of the classmates meet for lunch each month.

The delicious, evening dinner held at the Atlantis Grill on March 21 stirred the past and it tasted sweet. The evening was coordinated by Margaret Shamo Witherow, the class secretary and the 'go to girl' to get things done. 'Maggie,' to her friends, had the honor when she graduated, of receiving the award for six years of perfect attendance and outstanding service to the school.

Ron Finch, Class President, retired from the First Savings and Loan of Lake Worth. He and lovely wife, Arline, now live in Gainesville. They cheer for all the football games and basketball games played by the University of Florida 'Gators.' They were unable to attend.

Scrapbooks of all sizes were enjoyed by those attending the dinner. With pictures and articles the senior year event was memorialized. There are band pictures with Joe A. Lusk as bandleader and David A. Cline directing the Senior High School Glee Club. The senior play, "The Whole Town's Talking" had information and pictures of the play directed by Ward Heberling (Speech and Social Studies).

Bud Greene enjoyed recalling the junior play in 1949, "Dear Ruth." He played the roll of the soldier. Greene was honored to be given and wore the uniform of Fred Felty. Felty died on active duty in WWII. Bud also sang a comical song written in the 1950's by R. Paul Fiscus.

The South Ocean Club, located just north of the Casino, was the location of the Junior-Senior Prom. Everyone was quite sad when the Club burned down. It was noted that Watson B. Duncan, III, the respected professor of now Palm Beach State College used to grade his students papers there.

Before the Seniors graduated they had what was called "skip day." This is a full day of fun away from the Lake Worth area. Grenalds Park in Miami Beach was selected. Franz Vardamann Rankin still smiles about when she went horseback riding. "The horse had to be persuaded to move from behind. When it did move it was only to return to the comfort of eating."

At the Commencement Ceremony, Russell O. Morrow, former State Legislator, Judge, City Attorney and Lake Worth High School graduate urged the graduates to "be straight thinking, hard hitting, honorable men and women." Forty-five boys and 55 girls were introduced by D.D. Caudill, Principal, and received their diplomas by Howell Watkins, Palm Beach County School Superintendent.

During the evening, 'Maggie' was able to direct the 'days of remembering' with well-chosen questions. It did not take any time at all for those attending to enter into the spirit. Not one person had a problem remembering the class colors of green and white. The class flower is the red rose. There was a pause, but Sarah M. May (Science and Mathematics) and Louise Doulas (Commercial Subjects) were the class sponsors.

There were laughs, all in good fun, when the question was asked, "What color was Josephine Vermillion's hair?" Now, everyone knows, that on any given day Miss Vermillion's hair would go from blue to purple. She was a well-loved Language Arts teacher.

Helen Moore Gilmore, a native of Lake Worth, married Harold Gilmore. She, like 'Maggie' is the glue to many organizations. Helen and many of the 1950 Class are active in the Alumni Association. Helen is facing retirement from her successful "Helen Gilmore Learning Center." To fill her already busy schedule, she is teaching two on-line classes.

Alice Post Eli traveled from Rochester, NY to their winter home on the west coast of Florida, Sun City, to the reunion. Alice was a drum majorette with the band. She and her husband, Francis, still enjoy sailing their sailboat on the waters of the Great Lakes.

Evelyn Grose Hight, was the secretary for one of Lake Worth's prominent lawyers, John R. Day. She retired after 30 years. She is a joy to visit with and she knows a great deal about the history of the school.

Carolyn Baruch married Bob Baruch in 1951. As a technical representative for the Air Force they traveled and lived in exotic places Germany, Hawaii and Oklahoma. They still enjoy a good trip.

Traveling must be in the blood of the 1950 graduates. Annette Weil Derryberry, who has moved from Gainesville to Cresthaven, has been around the world four times.

Football has always been very important at Lake Worth High School. It was so important that in the 1950's, when they played the Wild Cats of West Palm Beach, they would have an all day pep rally. A conga-line of students would weave through the school shouting "What do we eat?" The answer coming even louder would be..."Wild Cat Meat."

They are still looking for the student(s) that dyed chickens green and placed them in the early morning hours on the campus of Seacrest. Their team was called the Seahawks.

Although W.H. Cook was the head football coach, two names are always mentioned with affection, Robert W. Fulton (who became Palm Beach County School Superintendent) and Tom Burns

Class of 1960 55th Reunion Plans

The Class of 1960 is planning a 55th reunion for March 7-8, 2015. Set aside the dates and join us. Contacts are Sue Kunkel Drawdy (suedrawdy0302@comcast.net) and Paul Darst (rpdarst@netally.com).

Thank You!

The Lake Worth Alumni Foundation and Lake Worth Dollars for Scholars wish to thank the Class of 1968 for their generous contribution of $300 from their reunion funds.

Museum Now Open In Lake Worth

The Lake Worth Museum, located in the City Hall Annex between Lake Ave and Lucerne Ave at Federal Highway, is open to the public Wednesday and Friday from 1 pm til 4 pm.

There is a treasure trove of Lake Worth history available for the public to browse.

(who became a Dean).

One mystery was solved, thanks to Don Wilson. We now know that Jerry Berry and William 'Bo' Adcock climbed the very tall, City Water Tower and painted a very large 50 on the night of graduation.

There were four places that you were sure to find the Seniors of Lake Worth High, the Ideal Drug Store (N.E. corner of Lake and Dixie Highway). They had the best soda fountain in town. Duane Stuart, who lettered for three years in football, worked for Mr. Arnold, the owner.

Although television was just being introduced, Lake Worth students went to the Worth Theater (now the Lake Worth Playhouse) and the Lake Theater (the Cultural Council of Palm Beach County). They enjoyed a movie, popcorn and that special time when you could hold your girls hand on the back row.

The popularity of the beach still holds it magic. I am sure that students from the 1950's to 2014 still go to the beach to 'see the submarine races.'

Reunions, big or small, are a wonderful time to dust off the memories of the past. The Class of 1950 had a motto: "A quitter never wins and a winner never quits." This class cherishes the past by remembering it.

We would like for anyone who would like to share a story, pictures, memories to please send them to hogfish123@aol.com for the November newsletter which goes out on May 13th 2014. Please send copies of photos as they will not be returned.

Terence “Terry” McMahon, ‘83 Wins National Award

by HELEN VOGT GREENE
Reprinted from the Lake Worth Herald

On April 4, the prestigious PASCO STEM Educator’s Award was presented to 2014 elementary school teacher/educator, Terrence ‘Terry’ McMahon. A 1983 Lake Worth High graduate, he traveled to Boston, MA, to receive the award with his wife, Sandra, his two sons, Facundo, Joaquin, and his proud parents, Frank and ‘Trinkie’ McMahon.

The PASCO STEM Educator’s Award is sponsored by the Roseville, CA based PASCO Scientific. The company “offers a variety of interfaces sensors (probes) bundled with computer-based activities for chemistry, biology, physics, and general science.” PASCO is in partnership with the National Teachers Association, “to recognize excellence and innovation in the field of STEM education, (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics.)” Each year five educators are selected from across the nation, one elementary, two middle schools and two high schools. Each awardee receives $1500 to travel to the NSTA Conference, $1000 monetary gift and a $2,000 certificate for PASCO scientific products.”

Teaching the 5th grade, McMahon is a 26 year National Board Certified Teacher at Meadow Park Elementary School. This beautiful campus is, with Principal Pamela Arnette the “Home of the Eagles that are...Soaring to Excellence.” Because of its teachers and staff, Meadow Park Elementary is a Florida Five-Star School.

Walking into the McMahon classroom is a unique experience. First, the room is not square or a rectangle. Tables replace the old desks and gone long ago are the ‘blackboards’. This is a STEM lab/classroom. The space provides storage of scientific kits, high tech devices, and all manner of interesting items. STEM is a project based learning opportunity. The students work in groups helping and learning from each other. Each student has availability of the most advanced technology. There are I-Pads, I-Pods Touches and/or laptops. “My students are mostly paperless and use these devices throughout the day.” These are the ‘tools’ needed to deal with todays and tomorrows technology. These students are learning to deal with ‘real world’ needs using the ‘tools.’

The scientific ‘tools’ help measure, document, and capture data faster and more accurately. Students no longer have to ‘guess,’ the ‘tools’ of tomorrow are in the classroom today.

McMahon’s objective in teaching is, “to challenge students, academically, creatively using science, technology, engineering and mathematics while providing a meaningful ‘real world’ experience.”

McMahon’s application was judged on ‘real world’ projects. One very beautiful project is the large, very productive garden. This garden is an outdoor lab of learning. It was made possible by a Palm Beach County grant, donations from Home Depot and Lowe’s. But, with the money came a lot of ‘get down, get dirty, hard work by the students and the teachers. The students use all of their STEM knowledge building, planting, and caring for the garden. The students are able to take pride and eat the results of the labors.

The project that deserved recognition from Channel 5 television and the National Weather Service was called “Corey’s Vodcast on Rip Currents.” A Vodcast is a video broadcast over the internet, Today, the National Weather Service features this project on their website.

The newest project that the students are engaged in is keeping a journal. “This is the development of interactive science journals using ibook Author. Students are documenting their science experiments throughout the year.

All of this technology allows McMahon to have an ‘open door’ to visiting educators from across the world. “One of the most special visitors was Apple Vice President for Education - John Couch.

This creative teacher/educator is no stranger to accolades and recognition. When McMahon received his Masters of Science from NOVA University, it was with a 4.0 grade point average. In 2009, he was a Dwyer Award Recipient. In 2003 and 2006 McMahon won the “I Make A Difference” Teacher of Excellence. He received the Apple Distinguished Program Award for 2012-2015 for developing and sharing curriculum in learning with mobile devices such as i-pads I-pods, and etc..

You can go ‘back to school’ by logging-on to McMahon’s website at palmbeach-schooltalk.com/mcmchont. As Terence ‘Terry’ McMahon goes to Boston, we say Thank You from a grateful community for teaching and sharing the ‘tools’ of the ‘real world’ to our children.

Lin-Donnald

Win National Award

by HELEN VOGT GRENE
Reprinted from the Lake Worth Herald

On January 17 Audrey Patricia Lin, daughter of Arvin and Pat Lin, and Debbie Donnald co-owners of the Two Chick Farm were awarded one of Good Foods highest national awards at the Marketplace in San Francisco, California.

Lin was born in Lake Worth and graduated from Lake Worth High School in 1974. After graduating from college with a degree in engineering, and working for Motorola for more than 20 years, Lin left the semiconductor business. She joined Debbie Donnald, a friend that she had met in 1980, in exploring a new dream - organic farming. The dream was called Two Chick Farm.

The 10-acre Two Chick Farm was purchased in 2007. It is tucked between Durham and Burlington just north of I-40 in beautiful Hillsborough, North Carolina. With determination and hard work, the completely organic farm has grown tremendously. Because Lin-Donnald use three long, double-lined, hoop greenhouses, they are able to grow and harvest all year long. They now grow 25 different varieties of vegetables and spices. They also returned to school to learn the pickling and fermenting processes. Although the fresh vegetables will always be available, Lin-Donnald are preparing and selling more of the pickled and preserved organic foods. They sell their products at the popular local farmers markets and supply three food stores with their specialty items. Two Chicks Farms pepper jelly and carrots n’ ginger are the best sellers. People, who want quality, are willing to spend the extra money to buy...”Locally Grown - Locally Made” organic products.

The Two Chick Farm dream became even more a reality, when the first time entry of Lin-Donnald’s, joined 130 other winners from five regions of the United States. Each contestant had entered and won in one of ten food divisions. The 2014 judged best of the best were honored with a gala reception held in the iconic Ferry Building. The Good Food Awards.. “recognizes the truly good food - the kind that brings people together and builds strong healthy communities.” The “Seeding Projects” established the Good Food Awards. It is a collaboration of food products, farmers food journalists, and independent grocers. The Lin-Donnald’s prestigious award was given for Two Chicks Farm’s Dill Kraut n’ Pickles Sauerkraut. Pickles are one of the ten food divisions.

Dirty hands, hard work, long hours, continuing education, helping Mother Nature and that everlasting ‘can-do-spirit’ has made Audrey and Debbie’s Two Chick Farm a special place to live the success dream.

DEBBIE NELSON CLASS 71 AWARDED

“THE INNOVATIVE EDUCATOR” AWARD FROM THE PALM BEACH COUNTY DISTRICT THIS YEAR

Deborah Nelson currently works at Royal Palm School as a music teacher.

Due to the physical and mental challenges of her students in meeting the current music curriculum demands, she had software and hardware developed for them.

The software is accessed via an array of switches that allows students to control sound and either video or pictures that have been programmed onto a computer and viewed on an LCD screen.

Imagine using switches to play “Also Sprach Zarathustra,” also known as the 2001 a Space Odyssey theme. The switches can put about anything multimedia into the hands of the students.

It can be used for fun, to do assessment, or for creative endeavors. Deborah won the Innovative Educator award this year. It is an award that the School District of Palm Beach County gives every year at the Technology Conference at Santaluces High School.

Robert Bowles, '39

by Kitty Bowles Kulp, daughter, LWHs class of 1961

Robert Bowles, a member of the Lake Worth High School class of 1939, celebrated his 72nd wedding anniversary along with his wife, Genevieve, on December 6, 2013. They were honored with a surprise party hosted by their daughter, grandchildren, and great grandchildren of Murfreesboro, Tennessee. They were married December 6, 1941, the day before Pearl Harbor was bombed. They were on their way from Cincinnati, Ohio, to Lake Worth when they stopped to buy a newspaper and learned that United States had declared war against Japan. Because of this, their anniversary brings back bittersweet memories.

Robert was born in Lake Worth and lived most of his life there before moving to Murfreesboro, Tennessee, in 1987. He met his wife, Genevieve, shortly after graduating high school while she and her family were vacationing in Lake Worth from Ohio where they lived. After a lot of correspondence and a few trips to Ohio, they were married two years later. Robert fought in WWII in the Battle of the Bulge and Battle of the Rhine.

Bob and Jenny, as they are known to friends and family, live in a lovely assisted living facility in Murfreesboro, and Bob still drives his truck to go shopping. He recently celebrated his 93rd birthday on May 3, 2014.

Dollars for Scholars
President's Message

The past year has been very challenging for the Dollars for Scholars (DFS) Board of Directors. We received our charter from Scholarship America, the DFS parent organization, in 1998 and we have had smooth sailing until the 2013-2014 scholarship year. Scholarship America suddenly changed the way we are required to do business. It has been very challenging to learn the new system to say the least. However after much effort on the part of Doris Welsh, Michael Woods, Paul Blockson and LW High guidance counselor, Maggie Cooper, we were able to comply with the guidelines required by Scholarship America and to learn the new system. Scott Curry who serves as webmaster for both DFS and the alumni foundation spent countless hours going through the hoops to make the DFS web site meet the requirements of Scholarship America. When you think of volunteers working many hours of dedicated service to their community, think of this team.

We awarded $83,000 this year on May 7 in the school auditorium located in Tommy Hansen Hall. This year's awards represent an all-time high. A total of 70 applicants for the DFS general scholarship and the Barry Grunow Memorial Scholarship were evaluated by the selection committee. Fifty six students were selected to receive awards ranging from $1,000 to $3,000. Of the 56 recipients, 49 students will receive the DFS general scholarship and 7 will receive the Barry Grunow Memorial Scholarship named for the Lake Worth Middle School teacher slain in his classroom on the last day of school in 2000.

This is our 16th year assisting financially needy students in realizing their dream of a college education. This year's $83,000 brings our total to $835,700 since our initial award of $10,000 in 1999. It would not have been possible to raise and award scholarships in this amount without the help of dedicated volunteers serving on our board. We are also indebted to The Lake Worth High School Alumni Foundation for paying all our overhead expenses, allowing us to proudly proclaim that every dollar donated to DFS goes to help a student with college expenses. LW High Principal Dr. George Lockhart continues to be our biggest booster donating $25,000 from the school's flea market, the most successful fundraiser in the history of Palm Beach County Schools. God bless our anonymous donor who came through again this year with a donation of $10,000.

SCHOOL BOARD HONORS ALUMNI FOUNDATION AND DFS

The Palm Beach County School Board recognized the alumni foundation and Dollars for Scholars at their March 12 meeting. School Board Chairman Chuck Shaw and board member Mike Murgio arranged the meeting attended by 21 members of both the alumni and DFS boards. Vickie Middlebrooks from the school board office of communications read information on the history of the two organizations and told the school board and audience of contributions the boards have made to the students of Lake Worth High School.

Alumni board member John Adair was introduced as being a member of the class of 1945, a WWII Veteran and the only surviving member of The Palm Beach County School Board Board of Trustees. There were probably only a handful of people in the room that had ever heard of the board of trustees. John can tell you about that group.
