Six years ago, when Dennis Dorsey heard I was moving to Brevard County, he was disappointed because he wanted me to be the newsletter editor.

I jumped at the chance to do something for the Foundation, pointing out that with today's technology, I could produce the newsletter from anywhere in the world.

Technology has connected us to the rest of the world in countless ways. Our board meetings are conducted on Zoom as well as in person, allowing alumni who live outside South Florida to be active in the group's leadership. Former Foundation vice president Melisa Foronda and former Dollars For Scholars board member Jeff Cain (1971), live in Fort Pierce and Virginia, respectively.

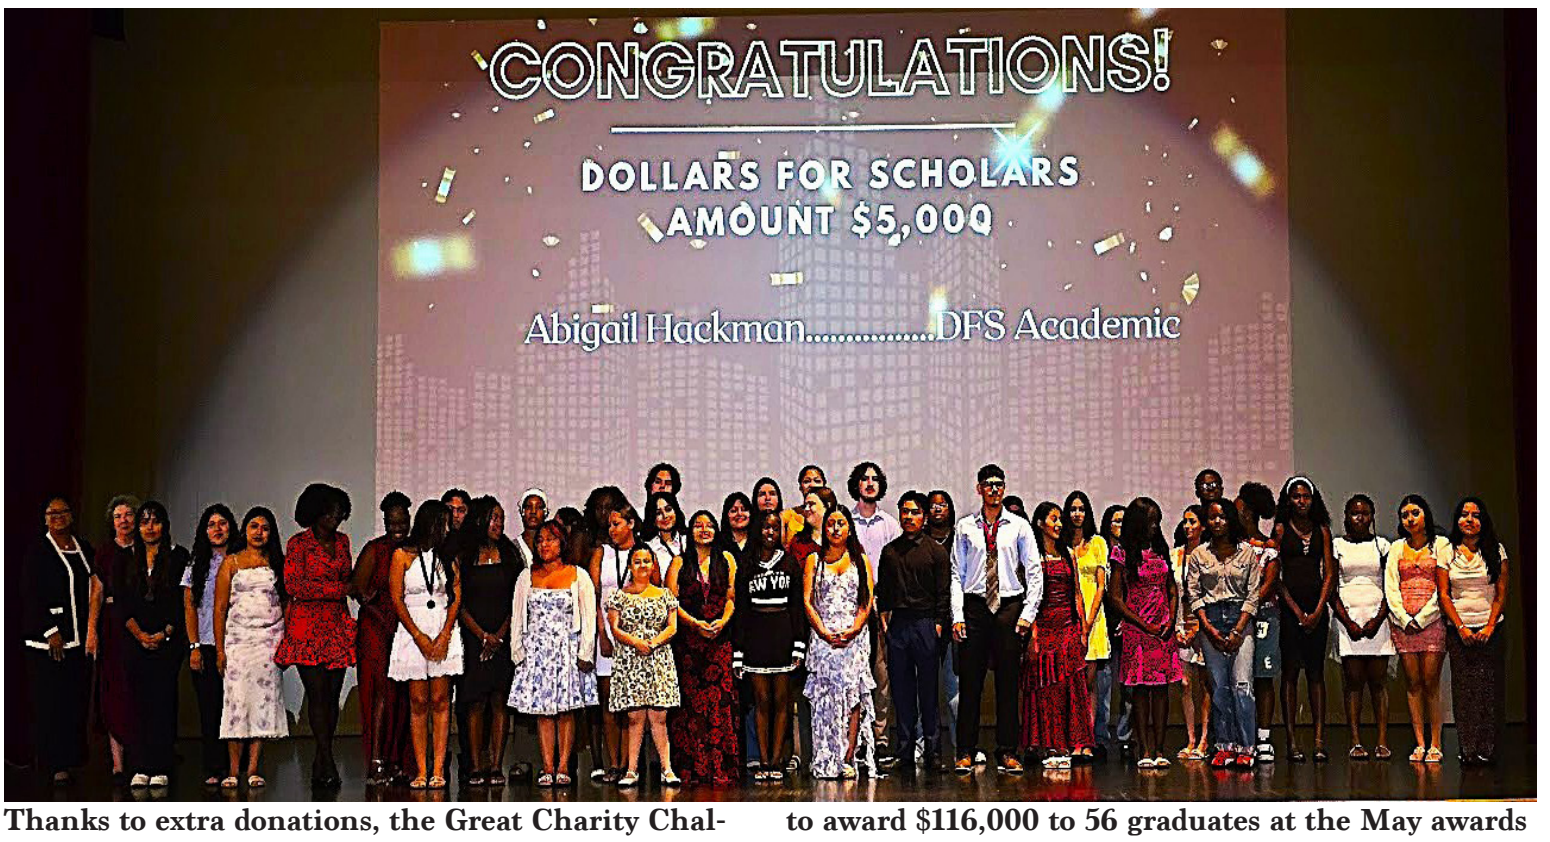

We can look up information on venues, caterers, supplies and much more to compare prices and services. Last spring, BobieSue Everett Bressmer (1974) ordered most of the decorations for the luau while recovering from surgery in Tennessee.

You may be surprised that you needn't be a graduate of Lake Worth High School to be part of the Foundation and especially Dollars for Scholars/Lake Worth. We have had several valuable members who never attended LWHS. Honey Duncan, Pat Growney, former DFS president Paul Blockson and and current DFS president Lady Hereford are not graduates of the school. Our success has depended on the community at large as much as our alumni.

Donations can come from any source. A notable recent endowment was from Clifford Taylor, longtime principal in Palm Beach County and good friend of our founding president, David Dee Cantley.

Ask how you can help the next generation.

By the numbers: 56 seniors, $116,000

Thanks to extra donations, the Great Charity Challenge, and a couple of new endowments, the Lake Worth High School Alumni Foundation was thrilled to award $116,000 to 56 graduates at the May awards ceremony in the auditorium. See details and photos of the recipients on pages 4 and 5.

Meet the new principal

There is nothing quite like the pride of a Trojan, and I am deeply honored to step in as the new principal of Lake Worth High School.

My roots in this community run deep, with over 20 years in education right here in West Palm Beach and Lake Worth — including my recent five-year tenure as principal at Palm Springs Middle School. As a proud mom, I look at our students and see limitless potential.

My vision for Lake Worth High is to bridge our proud traditions with a bright future, ensuring every student leaves our halls ready to conquer college, career, and beyond.

I'm so excited to partner with our alumni community as we write the next great chapter for our school!

Homecoming Game/Alumni Night

Once again, the weather postponed the Homecoming Game against Dwyer to a Monday night, Sept. 28. The team had already forfeited two games after a couple of players' grades made them ineligible. Above: The JROTC Color Guard starts off the evening; Student Government Association turns out in force for the game; Homecoming Princess Akia Knowles; cheerleaders help to keep spirits high in the face of a 54-6 loss; the marching band takes the field -- Trojan Sound and Color Guard always a high point of the evening.

Disappointing end to football season

Band Alumni night started off with a special mini-concert by the Trojan Sound band in the auditorium, for graduates attending the game. Band Director Alondra Bahls-Mariles led the musicians.

The action moved to Bill Harvey Stadium at C.H. "Mac" McKinnon Field, where the Trojans took on Wellington. The game was a home game for Wellington even though it was at Lake Worth Community High School. Sad to say, the crowd's spirit was dampened by a 47-6 loss. Due to a shortage of players -- two were injured at this game -- the rest of the football season has been cancelled. On the bright side, we met the new principal, Dr. Pamela Cosme. Meet her on page 1.

Class of 2016

Grads from 2016 met at West Palm's Gaines Park on a June Saturday to relive their glory days, starting with a game of musical chairs.

Members of the class of 2016 pose for a group photo at their 20-year reunion. The reunion committee made the event less formal and more affordable by booking a community center and bringing in a caterer and a DJ. The Trojan spirit took care of everything else.

The weekend kicked off on Friday night at Tacos al Carbon. About 20 classmates and spouses enjoyed drinks, food and a great deejay.

Saturday night was a catered cocktail reception at Bendito Bar & Grill on the border between Lake Worth and Greenacres. The Class of 2006 understood what cocktail attire was and everyone looked great. The dance-floor focus became a friendly twerk competition with some amazing moves. About 70 folks were there, classmates, spouses and friends. The deejay was hot, the drinks cold and the food plentiful.

This reunion offered some options to hotel booking and its attendant costs.

Dwyer honors two LWCHS teachers

Two teachers from one school were among the finalists for the 2026 William T. Dwyer Excellence in Education Awards, sponsored by the Economic Council of Palm Beach County Foundation: art teacher Britt Feingold and early childhood education teacher Cindy Fakhoury.

Ms. Fakhoury went on to win the overall award at the May 4 ceremony. It is unusual for one school to have two finalists in the annual awards. Congratulations to these two of the school's many fine teachers.

Ron Finch, staunch supporter, class of 1950

It is with sadness that the family of Ronald M Finch Jr announce his passing on April 26. Ron had a full and good life. His successful career in banking led to many friends and memories.

Ron was born in Minneapolis MN on Jan 21 1932. In 1943, the family moved to Lake Worth. He graduated high school in 1950, lettering in baseball, basketball and football. After graduation, he enlisted in the Air Force and worked on the B47 bomber. He then went on to University of Florida and graduated in 1954.

Coming home to Lake Worth,, he started working for the local bank and eventually became president.

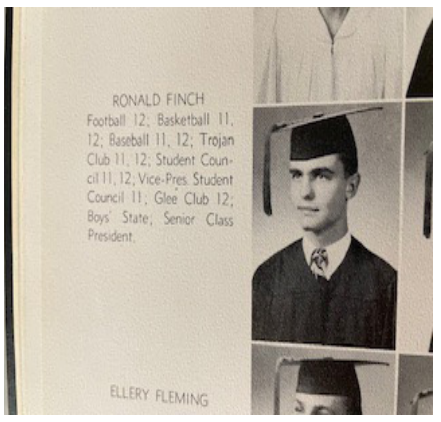

In 1961, he married Arlene Atkins, a marriage that lasted 60 years.

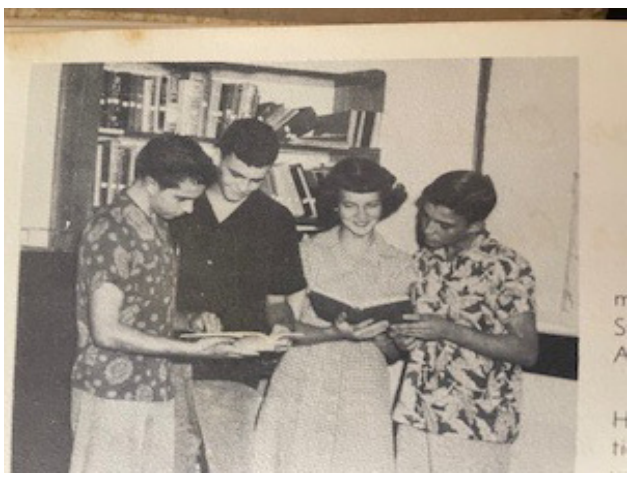

After retirement, they enjoyed their summer home in Waynesville, NC, where they hosted several family outings.

They moved to Gainesville, FL, in 2000, then to Oak Hammock in 2010, a retirement facility.

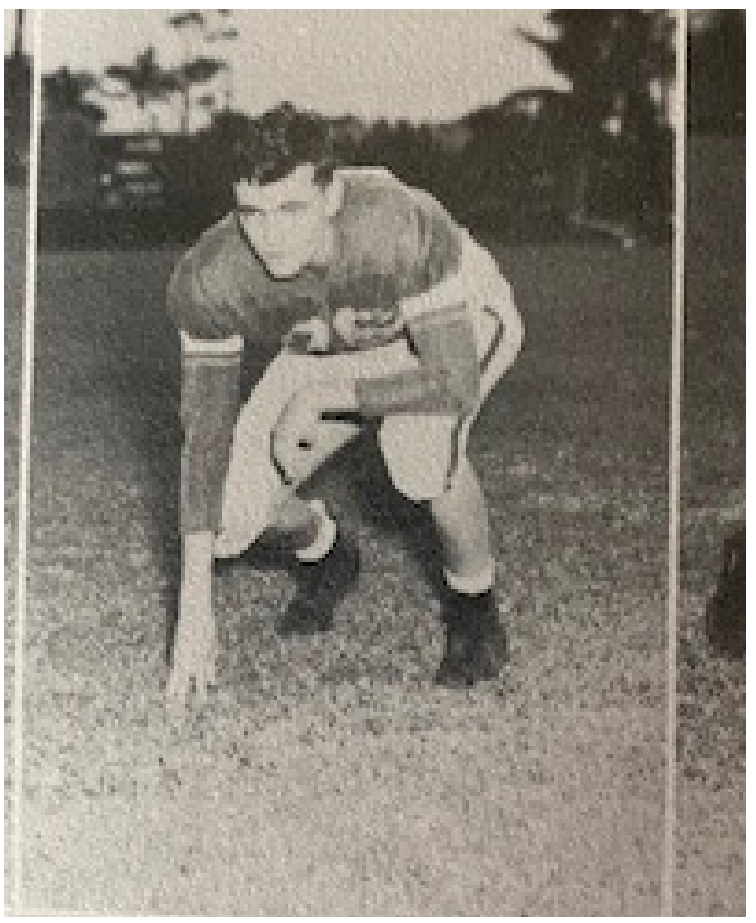

He was preceded in death by his wife, Arlene, in 2021 and his sister, Charlane, in 2023. He leaves a niece, Cathy Wilmoth (Larry), nephew Ron Fulton (Maggie), grand nephew Bob Fulton (Emily) and their two children Ben and Maddy. Cathy graduated in the class of 1976, Larry Wilmoth class of 1977, and Ron Fulton, class of 1973.

Reptinted from the Palm Beach Post

Leader, good friend from school days

By Maggie Shamo Witherow
Class of 1950

Ronald M. Finch Jr. was born into a world of depression, but the family was always together.

He and his family moved to Lake Worth in 1943. The junior high and senior high buildings were next to each other with a breezeway in between with only aa total of 700 students.

Ron was quite the athlete and lettered in all three sports: football, basketball and baseball.

Most of the city used to come to all the football games and our bitter rivals were the West Palm Beach Central High School Wildcats. On the days we played West Palm in football, we had no classes. It was an all-day long pep meeting.

We started in the auditorium, followed by a chain of joined hands going through the building and up and down the stairs stamping our feet chanting, 'What do we eat? Wild Cat meat!!" When we came to school that morning, we found gravestones on the front lawn with all the different players' names on them. Of course, our guys put the markers on their lawns also.

Lake Worth High School was so small that even Tampa played football in our class. Only two school buses were needed to take the football team and the band to Tampa for the game. That started at 8 o'clock PM so we had to spend the night at a hotel.

Senior skip day for Ron (or Jugs as he was known to all his friends) was a wonderful day at Greynolds Park in Miami. The class met at Bryant Park to carpool, then made a trip in front of the school honking our horns to show we were seniors having a skip day, and then on to Miami along with our senior sponsors, the principal and his family.

Swimming, canoeing, horseback riding, cookouts and home by that night. What a blast! Ron graduated along with 98 others as the class of 1950, and a great class it was with Ron as our senior class president.

After high school graduation and a tour in the Air Force, Ron attended the University of Florida. Then he came back to Lake Worth and started working at The Federal Savings and Loan.

He remained in banking until his retirement, at which time he and his wife Arleen of 60 years moved to Gainesville and attended most of the UF Football games.

The class of 1950 motto was, "Quitters never win and winners never quit." Ron Finch certainly exemplified that motto.

A couple of notes from Founding President David Cantley: Early in the Foundation's history, Mr. Cantley approached banker Finch to waive fees on the Foundation's banking and checks, getting us off to a good start.
Then a few years ago, Ron's nephew, Ron Fulton, persuaded his uncle and his mother, Charlene Finch Fulton Macon, class of 1948, to endow a scholarship with $50,000 each.
The Finch-Fulton scholarship fund is the largest scholarship fund at this writing.

Are you a DFS Scholar? We Want to Hear From You!

By Lady Hereford
President/Dollars for Scholars

One of the greatest joys of serving on the board of Lake Worth Dollars for Scholars is seeing the excitement on the faces of our scholarship recipients during the school's Senior Awards ceremony each May.

It's also gratifying to hear from these same students months or years after graduation and learning how the scholarship helped them in their educational and career journey.

DFS is rapidly closing in on the $2 million milestone of scholarships awarded since 1999. With that in mind, I want to issue a call to action to of all of our hundreds of scholarship recipients everywhere. Just reach out to us. Share your story. It's as simple as that.

We want to hear from those who were part of the very first scholarship class. Our Academic Scholarship recipients. Our Vocational Scholarship recipients. Our Barry Grunow Memorial Scholarship recipients.

Whether your scholarship was from one of our named endowments or one from our annual donors, we want to connect with you. As I'm sure you know, you're part of a very special group of scholars. We want to celebrate you! And yes, that includes our recent graduates from the past few years.

Your success is not only a reflection of DFS but also the donors who make our work possible. They enjoy hearing about your lives as much as we do.

Speaking of our newest graduates, I'm excited to share that the Class of 2026 included 56 DFS recipients who received a total of $116,000 in scholarships. That brought our total scholarship awards to date to $1,971,500.

In other DFS news, the time has come for this year's seniors to start applying for scholarships. The application window for our current scholarships opened on Nov. 2, and will be ssthrough March 31, 2027.

To send us your story, join our board or make a donation, please reach out to us via the Alumni Foundation's social media pages or by email at LakeWorth@dollarsforscholars.org.

Thanks for helping us spread the word!

EYE ON ALUMNI:

Fans of The Bear saw this episode in Season 3, where series star Jeremy Allen White, right in above photo, learns to truss a chicken for roasting from Thomas Keller, owner of The French Laundry and Per Se, two of the nation's top restaurants.

What you may not know is that Thomas Keller, right, graduated from LWHS in 1973.
